Welcome to Angelina College!

Individuals from across the country have enrolled or will begin the process to enroll in an institution of higher learning in the coming months. This is not an easy decision, but it is one that can change the course of your life.

Many of those individuals will choose to enter a community college to earn credits for transferring to a four-year institution or to enroll in one of many technical programs. Angelina College offers many opportunities to a very diverse population.

Staff members from the Admissions and Enrollment Services Office stand ready to help you enroll for the first time by completing the admission process, return to Angelina College, help you determine your future career path, transfer to another school from Angelina College, or get guidance if you are struggling academically.

We hope that you will see why "Angelina College is a great place to start!"

This site has a pretty straight forward navigation. It's clean and concise. However due to the overkill in gradients on every primary button in the navigation, it gets strenuous on the eyes due to the small type and flat blue color pallet. Aside from it being the least favored site in the visual aesthetics, the visitor whether an alumni or faculty can navigate easily without the sense of being overwhelmed by an abundance of text and randomly placed content like how the Santana monica college site is.
